

AUTOMATIC 'PHONE SYSTEM FAVORED BY CITY COUNCIL

Motion Carried Last Night to Instal Lorimer System if Company Would Guarantee First Class Commercial System--City Engineer Favors Manual Operated System

The question as to which system of telephone is to be adopted in Edmonton is not yet settled. After deliberating for nearly one hour and a half last night the city council voted on a motion made by Ald. Manson, seconded by Ald. Bellamy, which read as follows: "That the Lorimer Automatic system be adopted provided that a satisfactory agreement can be made with the Machine Telephone Co., of Toronto, and provided that they give a guarantee in bond that they will install a satisfactory commercial telephone system within four months." The motion carried on the following vote: For the motion, Aldermen Manson, Bellamy, Smith and Peadar; against the motion, Aldermen Griesbach and Latta. This practically leaves the question open until negotiations are opened with the Machine Telephone Company to obtain from them the guarantee and satisfactory agreement. Ald. Manson said in making the motion that if the company were not prepared to give them the guarantee, then the council should proceed to adopt the manually operated system.

When the discussion on the telephone question was opened, after other business had been transacted, the first thing to come up was a communication from Mr. Kelsch, the telephone expert, employed some time ago to look into the matter of telephones for the city. Mr. Kelsch said in his letter that although it had been said that the automatic system would be the best system ten years from now, the city could not wait that long. The question for the council now was whether they would adopt the expensive automatic with its imperfections, or whether they would adopt the manually operated, which was now as perfect as it would ever be. It was his recommendation to the council to install the manually operated central energy system. But he advised the council that if they adopted the automatic they should see to it that the agreement with the company were very rigid. Mr. Kelsch enclosed his account for the services rendered the council, which totaled $390. Mr. Kelsch said that the amount was three times that which had been contemplated at the outset, and that he would receive very little remuneration. Ald. Peadar moved and Ald. Smith seconded, that the communication be filed and the amount paid. The motion carried.

The report of City Engineer Keely was then read by Secretary-Treasurer Kinnaird. The report is as follows:

MR. KEELY'S REPORT.

It is necessary to divide this report on the telephone question into two parts.

(a) Put in the present office, temporarily, metallic boards to the capacity of 500 phones.

(b) Put all wires on poles, and in the business section and thickly settled portion, as far as practicable, put wires in lead enclosed aerial cables (except from proposed building to main street).

(c) Build modern drop-top telephone building, 48x65 feet, two storey and basement, which will amply house any system which the city may adopt.

(d) The above is based on the reports on the subject, and the writer's professional knowledge of telephone and

OBJECT TO HOSPITAL SITE

East End Citizens Think the Isolation Hospital Will be Too Near Their Front Doors.

Not a little business was transacted at the special meeting of the city council last evening before the all-important question of telephone systems was taken up.

Mr. Montgomery, an east end resident, had a communication before the council, which stated that he was the owner of two or three lots next the public hospital and adjoining the site chosen by the city for the erection of an isolation hospital. Mr. Montgomery was present to speak for himself, and registered a vigorous protest against the city building a "pest-house" as he called it, on the lots in front of his property. And another thing that there was danger of contagion from the patients in the hospital. Mr. Montgomery said that on the south side of the site there were ten dwelling houses, and that he would receive very little remuneration. Ald. Peadar moved and Ald. Smith seconded, that the communication be filed and the amount paid. The motion carried.

The report of City Engineer Keely was then read by Secretary-Treasurer Kinnaird. The report is as follows:

MR. KEELY'S REPORT.

Ald. Latta thought that any proposition which brought such a vigorous kick from the citizens was evidence that it was detrimental to that district. Another man who lived in that district said that he owned a lot or two fronting on the isolation hospital site, and that he had intended to build a house there.

Mayor May thought it was a question for the whole council to deal with. Ald. Peadar moved that as the whole council were not present, the matter be laid on the table and no action taken towards building the hospital until this matter was settled.

Mr. Brenon representing the water men of the city, asked for a reduction

CHESTER KEMP TELLS OF 'FRISCO

Was in the Ill-Fated City When it Was Destroyed by Earthquake and Fire

Chester Kemp arrived home from the south last night and brings a wonderful and terrible tale of his experiences in the San Francisco earthquake. He arrived in 'Frisco from Los Angeles on his way home to Edmonton on Tuesday evening and stayed there until Saturday, during which time he was an eye-witness to the destruction of the beautiful city.

Mr. Kemp says: "I saw the Toronto fire, when ten million dollars' worth of damage was done, but it was only a little bonfire compared to what I saw in 'Frisco. I arrived in San Francisco rather late on Tuesday evening from Los Angeles and went straight to the house where I usually boarded, on Hyde street, and went to bed. I knew all the boys there and when I was awakened up by the bed shaking I thought they were playing a joke on me. Then the chimney fell through the roof and I did not stay inside. When I got into the street it was crowded with people running around in their night clothes. Everybody was frightened. I went back into the house with some of the boys and we got our clothes and 'hiked' down town to see what had happened. Fires started in the frame buildings around where I was boarding almost immediately, and down town some of the big buildings were blazing before we got there. I saw some terrible sights. Right opposite the Flood building I saw a soldier shoot a man who was being roasted to death. He was pinned down and the rescuers could not get him out before the fire broke through. He begged a policeman to shoot him and relieve him of his agony. The policeman refused to do it. Then a soldier with a rifle came and he begged the soldier to shoot him. The soldier went to see his superior officer, who ordered the man shot at once. The soldier shot the crowd turned away. It was a terrible sight. Up at a place near the city hall I saw another man killed by a soldier. He cut a soldier's ear off to get the ear ring. The soldier saw him and clubbed him on the head with a rifle, killing him instantly. I did not see the incident at the mint, where the men were shot.

BUILDING PASSES $300,000 MARK

Permits Issued to Date Show that there is no Let Up in Activity in this City.

There is no let up in the building activity of Edmonton. The total up to date is almost a third of a million and is climbing up every day.

The building permits issued so far during the month of April total $106,465, which is a greater total than for the entire quarter of January, February and March, and brings the total for the year to date to $229,758.

STILL ANOTHER SHOCK.

Los Angeles, April 27.—A message to this city from Salinas, 120 miles south of San Francisco today states that there were very heavy earthquake shocks felt there last night, one at 8 o'clock, another at 9:50, and the last at 2 o'clock this morning. The shocks lasted about four seconds each. The damage at Salinas from earthquake shock of last week is in excess of a million dollars. The Salinas river is now twelve feet from its former course along its course for miles. Nearly all of the bridges across the river will have to be rebuilt.

COUNCIL CHAMBER RE-MODELED

The council chamber at the city hall has undergone a change within the past few days and no more will the city aldermen be required to gather round an oblong table. Hereafter they will deliberate upon public affairs from seats that are the embodiment of comfort and ease, and from behind desks of oak highly polished. The chamber now presents a handsome appearance. The desks of the aldermen are arranged four on each side of the room, with the commissioners' table in the centre. At the head of the room, on a raised dais sits His Worship Commissioner Kinnaird immediately beneath him at the head of the table. The table for the press is at the other end of the rows of desks, and faces the desk of His Worship. The visitors' seats are at the back of the room.

WILL TAX ALBERTA RAILWAYS ON THEIR ROADBED

Premier Rutherford Introduces Bill to Levy One Per Cent Railway Tax on an Assessment Basis of $20,000 Per Mile.

In the Legislature yesterday Premier Rutherford gave notice of a bill to be entitled "An Act to Supplement the Revenues of the Crown in the Province of Alberta."

Tersely put, the purpose of the bill is to tax the railways.

1. Every person, company or corporation, operating a line, or part of a line of railway within the province shall pay a tax in respect of the railway or part thereof so operated and not exempt from taxation, based upon the actual value of such railway or part thereof so operated within the province, but both the person, company or corporation owning the line or such part thereof and the person, company or corporation operating or working the said line or part or parts of a line as aforesaid shall be jointly and severally liable for the payment of the amount of such tax to the Provincial Treasurer.

The government reserves the right to appoint whoever it sees fit to act as assessors in order to ascertain the value of the railways, and in the meantime the roadbed is valued at $20,000 per mile.

The railway companies are required to furnish the government before the first of July, 1936, and before each succeeding first of July, a statement of the value of their roads. If any road or part of a road is exempt by Dominion enactment the company is required to show by what right it claims exemption. The company which fails to comply will be fined $20 a day for every day in default, and will be liable to double taxation.

The rate of taxation will be one per cent, payable annually on the first day of September. In case any company fails to pay the amount may be levied by distress and the rolling stock or any chattels of the company seized. It is estimated that there are 800 miles of road in Alberta subject to tax.

The Act, of course, cannot apply to roads that are exempt, for example, the parts of the Canadian Pacific system which were exempted by the Ottawa government at the time of the incorporation of the company.

This exemption, however, applies only to the main line and could not be construed to refer to the Crow's Nest Pass Railway and the Calgary and Edmonton Railway, which were built at a later date and under different company names. These two roads constitute 400 miles of the taxable roadbed in the province.

The remaining 400 miles is the property of the Canadian Northern. Estimated on a basis of $20,000 a mile, 800 miles of roadbed at one per cent, would pay into the province an annual revenue of $160,000.

AUTOMOBILE BILL PASSES

John R. Boyle's automobile bill was completed in the committee of the whole yesterday afternoon and is ready for third reading this afternoon.

Clause 10, the one which contains the real gist of the bill, was held over at the last consideration, for modification. The clause as amended yesterday reads:

"Every owner of a motor vehicle shall be liable for damages for any injury or damage caused through horses becoming frightened at such vehicle, unless all the provisions of this act and all the regulations made hereunder by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council are complied with (the proof of which shall be on him) and the person in charge of such vehicle shall be likewise liable as aforesaid may bring action against such owner and the person in charge as aforesaid, or all or any one or more of them at his election. Provided, however, that if the defendant in any such action shall prove that every reasonable precaution was taken by the person in charge of such vehicle at the time of the happening of the accident complained of, he shall not be held to be liable."

Winnipeg Terminals for G. N.

St. Paul, April 27. — The terminal plans of the Great Northern Railway Co. for Winnipeg are nearing completion, and preparations are being made to start work there. It is known definitely now that the station will be built on the block bounded by Ross, Leonard, Pacific and Pearl streets. It is understood that the station and office block will be a magnificent one fronting on a large square. The greatest interest is manifested here in Hill's operations in Western Canada. The works shortly to be commenced are stupendous in character but the organizing power of the management is marvellous and no obstacle is likely to prevent the completion of the railway lines even before the dates mentioned by Mr. Hill.

HILL BUYS FARM AT THE HAT. Medicine Hat, April 27.—A real estate deal of large proportions was put through to-day, when J. W. Hamilton, representing the Hill interests, purchased a block of land across the South Saskatchewan river known as the McCutcheon farm. The price paid was $20,000. Following this the Yeard and Pangle Bros. subdivision was purchased in its entirety by Peter Robertson, a local capitalist.

Peterboro Likes the Lorimer

The following telegrams have been received by Mayor May from citizens of Peterboro telling of their experience with the Lorimer automatic telephone.

Peterboro, Ont., April 27. The Mayor Edmonton: The Examiner has had a Lorimer machine telephone installed for three months. It gives most satisfactory service. Its absolute secrecy is an especially commendable feature. F. R. YOKUM, Editor Examiner.

Peterboro, Ont., April 27. The Mayor Edmonton: Am using three machine phones. More prompt and better service than Bell. E. F. MASON, Chairman Finance.

Peterboro, Ont., April 27. The Mayor Edmonton: Lorimer telephone system is working very satisfactorily to citizens here. HENRY BEST, Mayor.

Peterboro, Ont., April 27. The Mayor Edmonton: Machine telephone service here highly satisfactory. R. HICKS, Chairman Board of Works.

Peterboro, Ont., April 27. The Mayor Edmonton: Lorimer telephone system working well here. I use and like it. S. R. ARMSTRONG, City Clerk.

Peterboro, Ont., April 27. The Mayor Edmonton: The Lorimer automatic telephone service is all right, prompt, reliable, accurate and absolutely private. It is a mistake to take in this system, we have both and we know. F. H. DOBBS, Review Printing Co.

signature of the owner authorizing them to sell.

The bill was introduced by the member for Wetaskiwin, Mr. Rosenroff, and went through without opposition. F. A. Walker who claimed to be the only real estate man in the House, endorsed the bill, and in so doing stated that the bona fide real estate man would welcome the bill, as the practical effect would be to secure to the dealer his commission, and at the same time would protect the vendors against actions for commissions by agents who were not entitled to them.

COMMISSION AGREEMENTS MUST BE SIGNED.

"The Act to Prevent Frauds and Perjuries in Connection with Sales of Real Property," passed through the committee of the whole stage yesterday and comes up for second reading this afternoon. The bill is very brief, and provides that hereafter no action shall be brought to charge any person, either by commission or otherwise, for services rendered in connection with any land unless the contract upon which recovery is sought is in writing. The effect will be that hereafter "baiting" as it is generally practiced will be done away with, and real estate men will not undertake to sell anything for which they have not the electrical engineering and on this he is prepared to give his unqualified support. On the much disputed question of the form of the board of the central energy manual board and is more fixed in this opinion at the present moment than before. The Automatic has its good points; it is developing rapidly and will probably in time replace the manual system. However, when one considers the question of tolls, the efficient service with the surrounding towns and the increasing business which an efficient system will bring to Edmonton both in trade and revenue from the use of the telephone, there seems but one choice, viz. the central energy manual operated board. What the business man of Edmonton wants to-day is the best system that can be installed, and certainly, all things considered, there is no better equipment than the one suggested.

Alderman Griesbach moved that the report be received and laid on the table. Carried. Alderman Griesbach asked Mr. Keely which switchboard he had referred to in his report, the one mentioned in the report of Mr. Kinnaird or the one mentioned in Mr. Patterson's report? Mr. Keely said that he referred to the one mentioned in the report of Mr. Patterson which was the central energy manual operated board, not necessarily manufactured by Mr. Patterson's company. To handle the immediate increase in business more metallic boards could be installed and in the meantime the outside work could be done on with and put into shape and the wires connected with the metallic boards and when the metallic boards arrived they could be installed without interrupting the business. Alderman Manson said that the report of Mr. Keely had not favored the Lorimer system. Mr. Keely had not mentioned that the Lorimer system was a central energy. Mr. Manson thought that the council should not condemn the Lorimer for not being a central energy. It was a central energy system. Those gentlemen who were back of the automatic were prepared to guarantee a first class commercial telephone system. If the automatic system was the coming system, why not adopt it now. There were thousands using it who were satisfied with it.

Alderman Picard moved that the automatic was the best system that was before them provided that it could be connected with the long distance. Mr. Kinnaird said that it would require another switchboard.

Alderman Manson said that there was a gentleman present who had had considerable experience in the telephone line. He referred to Mr. Chas. Taylor. Mr. Taylor was given an opportunity of expressing his views and said he had listened to all the reports in connection with the question and had failed to find one fault mentioned from the electrical standpoint. He thought that the only thing against the automatic was that the talking circuit had to go through so many stages. They were in the same force of circumstances that had prevailed in 1888 when everybody sniggered at the idea of running electric railways in winter. Everything new was always scoffed at. He had given the Lorimer system some study and he felt that the idea in its favor over the Strowger. The only points against the automatic were the time limit and the connection.

Alderman Manson said that he had had some conversation with ex-Mayor Urquhart of Toronto, who had said that he had found the automatic perfectly satisfactory.

Alderman Bellamy said that one advantage was that it could be installed in sections and there was no need of installing a larger plant than could be used at present.

Alderman Manson said he believed the Lorimer was the better of the two automatic systems and if the company could put up a guarantee satisfactory the council should open negotiations with them at once.

Alderman Bellamy said that the Lorimer people had promised to install the central energy. They had not even tried the central energy yet.

Alderman Griesbach said that the question of energy was not an experiment. He could not see any difference when the connection was once made.

Mr. Keely said that his objection to the automatic was that it was too complicated and the operating expense would be too high. If they adopted the central energy automatic it would be still more complicated.

Mayor May asked Mr. Keely if connection could be made with the automatic phone to any distant place. Mr. Keely said that it would require an operator to make the connection.

Alderman Manson said that the automatic system was not a complicated one but one of simplicity. He then made his motion that the Lorimer system be adopted providing that the Machine Telephone company guarantee by bond to install a perfect satisfactory system in four months.

Mayor May said he had thought a great deal about the question. When in Chicago they had been delighted with the Strowger system. He thought however that the city would be better to adopt the central energy system. The Strowger might be all right, but it had not had the experience. What the city wanted was a good telephone system. The city had lost a good deal by not being connected with the Bell long distance. If they put in the Bell central energy they would know it to be all right.

Alderman Bellamy wished to know whether it would cost more to connect with the long distance after installing the automatic than with the Bell system. Mr. Keely said he thought it would cost more with the automatic. The Bell tenders had included the long distance connection and there would be no further expense.

Alderman Bellamy extended the motion of Alderman Manson.

Mayor May said they were not in a position to experiment. The Bell people would know what they were doing if they installed the automatic they would be up against it as they would be a long way from the factories of the company.

Mr. Patterson said that the phones now in use in the city could be changed for common batteries at a cost of 75¢ or less each.

Alderman Griesbach asked Mr. Patterson if the long distance lines would run right into the board of the local subscribers. Mr. Patterson said that they would and that one operator could make a connection for a local subscriber to any place.

Alderman Griesbach asked Mr. Keely his respect recommended the Bell energy system. Mr. Keely said that he recommended the manually operated central energy system with a multiple switchboard.

Alderman Latta moved an amendment to Alderman Manson's motion that Mr. Keely's report be adopted and that the matter of adopting the central energy be left in the hands of Mr. Keely.

Alderman Griesbach asked if the adoption of the report meant the adoption of the Bell system. Mr. Keely said that his idea had been for the council to choose which company they would purchase the central energy system from.

Alderman Picard supported the motion of Alderman Manson on the understanding that if it carried, the question would still be open for reconsideration and that it did not mean the final adoption of the Lorimer system. Alderman Manson said his motion was to obtain a satisfactory agreement with the company. If the company were not prepared to give the guarantee then the council could adopt the manual system.

Alderman Latta thought the matter should be settled at once and one system or the other adopted. There had been enough time spent over it.

Alderman Smith supported the motion on the understanding that the leaving open the question would not retard the city engineer from proceeding with the outside construction and the standardizing of the outside system.

The vote was taken, the amendment being defeated and Alderman Manson's motion carried.

Mr. Kinnaird then brought up the matter of the outside construction and asked the council if it was their intention to employ an outside engineer to proceed with the work.

Mr. Keely said that he could attend to it with a little more assistance in the way of a draughtsman or two and a man to cut out the power and install a construction. He thought, though that it would be well to have an expert employed. Mr. Patterson said that the Bell Co. would be willing to install the services of their engineering staff to assist in standardizing the system.

Alderman Griesbach moved that the matter be left with the engineer to report upon at next meeting. The motion carried.

NERVE

Toronto Mail and Empire: If Clifford Sifton and Wilfrid Laurier had been running the Cobalt mines and had the Chilies limit there would have been no such enterprise as Government operation. The wealth would have gone to private parties and another batch of politicians would have come out rich. We should have probably been asked to give away the mines to politicians offering to build a narrow gauge railway to them.

This from the organ-in-chief of the party which gave the west to a railway corporation and in reference to a Government which gives no land grants to railway companies.

TESTIFYING YET CONDEMNING

The columns of the Conservative press are affording these days some splendid examples of the rarity of consistency.

In common with all other papers which pretend to reflect the current history of their day and generation the news columns of these journals from the Winnipeg Telegram to the Calgary Herald are crammed daily with word pictures of the marvellous change which is being wrought in the Canadian west by the multitudes who are taking up farms, establishing communities and building cities between the Lakes and the Mountains. Black-headed articles announce daily the arrival of train-loads of newcomers from the eastern provinces, the states of the Union, and the Old Lands across the sea. Names of new settlements appear weekly in the correspondence columns of the journals, while enlarged editions published with more or less frequency picture with pen and camera the transition which the invading hosts are working on the face of the hitherto unpopulated prairies. And even these efforts do not give and cannot be made to give, more than an approximate representation of the real progress of the country.

But while the news columns of these journals are filled with unquestioned evidence of the splendid advancement of the country, the editorial columns are as certainly filled with condemnation of the Government, the policy and the means by which this advancement has been started and maintained. Either unable or unwilling to acknowledge the transition which the invading hosts are working on the face of the hitherto unpopulated prairies. And even these efforts do not give and cannot be made to give, more than an approximate representation of the real progress of the country.

THE FOUNDATIONS OF EDMONTON'S FUTURE

Edmonton does and should appreciate fully the high honor which has been done her by the legislators of the Province and it is not desirable that the utterance of the press of the city should convey a contrary suggestion. But it may not be inopportune to remind ourselves that whatever distinction abroad or prestige at home may be conferred upon the city by reason of its being the capital, political and social honors cannot and will not make Edmonton and that its future must depend as its past has depended on the resources of the tributary country and on the industrial and commercial expansion occasioned by the development of those resources.

It is a significant fact that it is the rare exception rather than the rule that the largest city in an American state is also the Capital. New York, Chicago, San Francisco, New Orleans, Philadelphia, Minneapolis are none of them State Capitals. In Canada the national capital is in the Dominion, while the provincial capitals of New Brunswick, Quebec and British Columbia are each exceeded in point of population and commerce by cities located within the respective provinces. These cases of course do not justify the argument that capital honors prevent a city becoming also a great commercial and industrial centre for Toronto and Winnipeg are unquestionably the greatest cities of the Provinces in which they are located but they illustrate the point that the distinction which such honors confer on a city by no means guarantees its supremacy in population, commerce and industry in the State or Province of which it is the political centre, and serve to raise the question whether such distinction really contributes greatly to the city's material welfare.

There is indeed a way in which the circumstances of being a capital may operate very powerfully against the material advancement and prosperity of a city. Cities are not the creations of accident; they are made by the human qualities of energy and enterprise applied to favorable natural conditions and locations. It follows that the continuous growth of a city, industrially and commercially depends on the continuous infusion into the life of the city of the energy and enterprise of successive generations. As those who have laid the foundations of new institutions are called from the scene of their labors their places must be taken and their work carried on by successors who by inheritance and training are qualified to carry this work to completion, or the aggregate development of the city will be broken and retarded by the interruption of the private enterprises which converge to produce that development. Whatever tends to direct the ambitions of the rising generations from industrial and commercial pursuits must therefore operate continuously against the steady advancement of the city. Now it is an admitted fact the attraction of a public service does tend to direct a very considerable proportion of young men from the fields of creative enterprise to unproductive employment and that this attraction is stronger in the community in which the government offices are located than elsewhere. If therefore a city had not unusually favorable natural resources and unusually favorable location this divergence of energy from its development must very seriously retard its progress especially during the earlier years, when those whose services are so lost to business would constitute a considerable proportion of the population.

The progress which Edmonton has made, however, and still more the conditions under which that progress has been made is ample assurance that there awaits the city a future of material development against which this detraction can have no appreciable effect. What Edmonton is to-day she has been made without the assistance of fictitious or artificial means and despite the lack of the facilities of transportation and communication which are commonly considered indispensable to the development of a community. That so much has been accomplished not only without the co-operation or passive assistance of railways but in the face of railway conditions which meant always discrimination against her and developed at times into something very like positive hostility toward her is all necessary proof that there must have been the best of natural reasons why a city should be located here and is not less proof that these reasons have been recognized and utilized by enterprising and far-sighted citizenship. It is upon these conditions supplied by nature and upon the spirit as often and so persistently manifested by her people that the real future of Edmonton depends, a future which will make the location of the provincial capital in this city the fitting tribute to the destiny designed by nature but realized by man.

THE DOMINION EXHIBITION.

The Dominion Exhibition this year is to be held in Halifax for two weeks at the end of September and commencement of October, and the civic and governmental commission, presided over by Mr. Justice Longley, which has the fair in charge, now has its main features well mapped out.

In preliminary prizes the sum of $10,000 is offered for live stock, agriculture, mining, and manufacturing exhibits. Many enquiries are coming in from points all over Canada for space in the buildings devoted to the various lines of industry and invention. The grounds, where the big fair is to be held, owned partly by the city of Halifax and Province of Nova Scotia, comprise many acres, with modern departmental buildings, neat grand stand and a half-mile race track. The buildings are being enlarged by temporary and permanent structures to ensure ample room for exhibitors and visitors. The commission is bending its energies to make the Dominion Exhibition thoroughly representative and complete in what may be called its "legitimate" departments, and they are not neglecting the lighter or amusement phases of the show. Prizes aggregating $50,000 are offered for a race meeting extending over the two weeks of the exhibition, when the fastest horses that the maritime provinces and a large part of Canada beyond can produce, will compete.

A vaudeville, spectacular and military display will be presented on a scale of considerable grandeur. In this the 1400 Canadian troops stationed there will be able to materially assist, and possibly the navy also will be able to take part.

A meeting of representatives of the leading railway lines was held in Halifax, when arrangements were completed for transportation for all parts of Eastern Canada as far as have prevailed from the Toronto Exhibition. Mr. M. McF. Hay, the manager of the Dominion Exhibition, has had a very large edition of the prize list printed, which he is ready for distribution and which he will be glad to supply to all enquirers.

WORK COMMENCED ON BIG PLANING MILL

Work has been commenced on the big planing mill and lumber yard to be erected on the flats of the Saskatchewan at the south end of the bridge. The mill is being built by a company of Minnesota and Dakota capitalists, of which W. H. Clark of Edmonton, is the head and manager. The mill will occupy ten acres of the flat on the south bank of the river, and will be one of the largest and most up-to-date mills in the province. The capacity of the mill is to be 60,000 feet of timber per day. An office has been erected on the grounds and men are already at work upon the lumber sheds and smaller buildings. A temporary saw mill has also been built for the handling of the logs this summer.

Is Hill After Prince Albert Branch?

Regina Standard.—The Standard learns from a presumably reliable source that a confidential agent of James J. Hill, the Great Northern Railway magnate, has been in England for some weeks past engaged in an attempt to secure a controlling interest in the Regina and Long Lake Railway, more familiarly known as the C.P.R. Prince Albert branch. From another source it is learned that the Canadian Pacific at present holds running rights over the road on a very short term lease renewable at frequent intervals. The Canadian Pacific management has made several unsuccessful attempts to secure the road outright, or to get a renewal of the original long term lease, which expired some little time ago.

Although the Standard has not so far succeeded in getting official confirmation of this report, it is on all fours with President Hill's well known plans concerning the Canadian Northwest. The building of the connecting link between the boundary and Regina itself but a gridiron in the comprehensive scheme already outlined will not be pushed ahead this spring and summer, and those in a position to know expect to see Great Northern steel laid into the capital city before winter opens. The acquisition of the Prince Albert branch would have the effect of stimulating construction work from the highest speed point compatible with efficiency for the northern line would be practically useless to the Hill interests until the southern connecting link is completed.

Should this be true the Canadian Pacific will doubtless lose no time in taking effective steps to protect its interests and should the control of this branch pass out of their hands the construction of a line practically paralleling it would follow as a matter of course. It is stated that the reason why the company has neglected to put the Prince Arthur section into a better state of repair is because of its insecure tenure.

HARDISTY-MOWAT

A brilliant wedding took place at the First Presbyterian church yesterday afternoon at 12.30 when Miss Margaret Mowat, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Mowat, and granddaughter of the late Sir Oliver Mowat, was married to Mr. William Percy David Hardisty, son of Mrs. Richard Hardisty.

The church was beautiful with its rich light and soft shadows, the chancel being outlined with a large arch of green creepers and massed with palms and white and pink carnations. Miss Webster presided at the organ, which was also adorned with flowers of the same hue, and at the well known strains of Mendelssohn's wedding March the bride entered, leaning on the arm of her father, who gave her away. The bridesmaids, Miss Creelman, of Montreal, Miss Eleanor Taylor and Miss Lillian Hardisty preceded the bride, who, of course, was the central figure in a beautiful dress of white satin with exquisite Limerick lace draped over the corsage and sleeves. A long tulle veil was worn arranged softly on a small crown of orange blossoms, and a large shower cluster of white roses and lilies of the valley was carried. The bridesmaids were all gowned alike in organdy dresses and long veils were worn with wreaths of blue forget-me-nots instead of hats. All carried bouquets of flowers.

Mr. Hardisty awaited the arrival of the bride, with his best man, Mr. Jones, of Calgary, at the chancel steps. Rev. Dr. McCaig (of Calgary) was also in readiness to officiate. During the signing of the register Miss Ethel Webster sang "O Perfect Love." After the ceremony a reception was held at the residence of the bride's sister Mrs. E. C. Pardee, where the lovely rooms were fragrant with the scent of spring flowers.

The bride's going-away dress was blue broadcloth, with hat to match. The happy couple left for the coast, where the honeymoon will be spent. The groom's gift to the bride was a diamond ring, and to the bridesmaid's pearl pins. The ushers, Messrs. Hardisty, Biggar and McCarty also were presented with pins.

Mrs. Hardisty, mother of the groom, wore a pale mauve voile de soie, with tulle of chiffon and belladonna. Mrs. Graham, sister, wore a pale green silk en princess, and becoming hat of white, with pale pink roses under crown. Mrs. Mowat, mother of the bride wore a beautiful black Leguin over cream satin and black pectine net relieved at the side with pink roses. Among others present were Supt. and Mrs. Constantine, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Strath, Mr. and Mrs. Riddell, Dr. and Mrs. Ferris, Dr. and Mrs. Hinglop, Mr. and Mrs. Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Nightingale, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Macdonald, Miss Ken, Mr. Eury, Miss Harvey, Mrs. Boucher, Mr. Kelly, Miss McLean, Mr. Fraser, Mr. and Mrs. Short, Mr. and Mrs. McJohn, Mr. and Mrs. Hobson, Mr. and Mrs. Saunders, Mr. and Mrs. Wallbridge, Mr. and Mrs. Jellet, Mr. and Mrs. Day, Mr. and Mrs. Barron, Mr. and Mrs. Gaultier, Mrs. Gray, Mr. and Mrs. Philpott, Mrs. McQueen, Mr. and Mrs. Dreesoll, Miss Dreesoll, Mr. and Mrs. Webster, Mr. Turnbull.

BRAND ORDINANCE LAID OVER

There will be no legislation on the brand ordinance at this session of the legislature. This announcement was made in the House last night by Hon. W. T. Finlay, Minister of Agriculture, when he asked leave to withdraw the bill already introduced on that subject. In so doing he stated that the Government was acting on the suggestion of the Saskatchewan Government.

When the Government of Alberta took the matter up, representations were made to the Saskatchewan Government looking to the possibility of making one law and one registration for both provinces, but the Saskatchewan authorities apparently did not take kindly to the proposition. Now, however the Saskatchewan government is making the same representations to Alberta and consequently legislation on the matter will be withheld at this session.

Incidentally, the brand-books are in a rather chaotic state, as there are brands recorded therein which have, to all intents and purposes, lapsed years ago so far as their usefulness is concerned, and a whole general clean-up and re-registration will probably have to be made.

PRIVATE BILLS GET ROUGH

The legislature spent the whole of the evening session on two private bills yesterday and only got through one one clause of one bill.

The bills were the Occidental Fire Insurance Co., and the Alberta Pacific Elevator Bill.

The Occidental Fire Insurance Co. is a Manitoba corporation, and by its application sought to be registered as an Alberta company authorized to transact and carry out business in Alberta to the same extent as it is empowered by the province of Manitoba.

C. A. Stuart brought the bill in and in so doing stated that the powers given the company by the province of Manitoba were such as might safely be granted to any company.

The bill in this form had already passed the insurance committee and had been put through its second reading, but in the committee of the whole stage last night John R. Boyle and John T. Moore opposed it so strenuously that it went back to the committee to have the powers asked for included in the bill. Mr. Moore and Mr. Boyle took the ground that the legislature could not, in ordinary wisdom, grant any company powers included in the acts of any other province without having those clauses either included in the bill or else enacted as a general act.

The other bill, the Alberta Pacific Elevator Company, was also brought in by the member for Glendon.

Clause 2 hung up and it was only after an hour's discussion and the first division ever taken in the committee of the whole that the clause passed.

Simmons, of Lethbridge, led the attack. The feature to which he particularly objected was the provision that the company could amalgamate, acquire or absorb any other elevator or elevator company.

In his attack on the bill he was supported by Robertson, leader of the opposition who alleged that in the south the Alberta Pacific was regarded as a C. P. R. creation, working on a rebate and that it was apprehended that it would absorb all the elevators in Alberta and become a monopoly.

Mr. Stuart claimed that there were no powers given to the company which are not possessed by any individual, and that to limit a company which had power to build elevators from buying them would be absurd. Attorney-General Cross averred that the company, if refused the powers by the legislature could get them in the regular way under the companies ordinance.

The motion was put and the clause passed.

THE PRINCE AT TORONTO

Toronto, Apr. 27.—Prince Arthur of Connaught spent a quiet morning at Government House. At noon he attended a luncheon as the guest of the officers and directors of the horse show at the Toronto Club, returning to Government House shortly after two o'clock in the afternoon. At 2.30 with an escort of Royal Canadian Dragoons he left for the horse show, where he graciously officiated at opening. The Prince left Toronto for Halifax on the Royal train after three days' visit.

TROOPS GUARD PARIS STREETS

Serious Outbreak Feared on May 1st and Every Precaution Taken

Paris, April 26.—The strike development has noticeably halted before the imposing military and police preparations to crush disorder and there is less uneasiness, but alarm is felt over the reports which continue to circulate concerning what may possibly happen on May 1. One report says that Spanish and Swiss Anarchists have succeeded in bringing forty bombs into Paris.

Paris, April 6.—The prefect of police M. Lepine, made a reassuring reply to hundreds of letters which anxious persons had addressed to the police. He said that all precautions had been taken to maintain order in the streets on May 1 and prevent attempts against life or property. Besides the full police force which will be on duty there will be reinforcements consisting of 25,000 infantry, cavalry and artillery will arrive here tonight and Saturday. These troops will be disposed throughout the city with precise orders. Surveillance will be maintained over water and gas conduits. In strike circles the men are much calmer. There has been no renewal of the disorders and the return of the northern iron workers to their factories indicates a partial break-up.

TRACK LAYING BEGINS IN JULY
Winnipeg, Apr. 27.—It is understood that the McDonald-McMillan Co. have received the contract for building the line of the G.T.P., between Winnipeg and Portage la Prairie, but the work will not be commenced for some weeks yet. It is likely that the return of the northern iron workers to their factories connected with the construction of the road will be taken up and dealt with.

DOWAGER EMPRESS CONTRIBUTES
Washington, April 26.—The Empress Dowager of China offered a personal subscription of $75,000 to the American minister at Peking for the relief of Frisco sufferers which Mr. Rockhill was instructed to decline with an expression of appreciation of the American Government. It is probable that this money will be sent direct to the Chinese representative in Frisco for the use of homeless Chinese. The Chinese Minister received despatches today from China showing that the movement for the relief of Chinese in California has been instituted in many parts of China. Nine charitable organizations in Hong Kong subscribed $40,000 and small amounts have been contributed in other cities. The Chinese Consul general in Frisco was not injured in the earthquake and has established a temporary consulate at Oakland.

WILL SOON TAKE WESTERN CENSUS
Winnipeg, April 27.—While nothing has been definitely arranged it is understood on the best authority that the date for the census of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta has been decided upon. The census of the three western provinces will be taken this summer and it is expected the government officers in charge of the work will be in Winnipeg in June. The date it is understood on which the census will be started will be at midnight between Sunday June 24 and Monday June 25, during which time every man, woman and child alive in the three provinces will be counted.

CANADIAN LUMBER FREE
Vancouver, April 26.—During the rebuilding of Frisco, British Columbia lumber is to be admitted free of duty at that port. Notice of the suspension of the tariff provisions by the United States government in so far as Frisco is concerned was received in Vancouver today by lumbermen. This means that the price of lumber will advance in Vancouver and that every mill which has no contract to ship will get after the business to be done with San Francisco. The lumber moves by water transportation and every craft which can sail or steam or move by any possible means will be pressed into service to carry the lumber from B. C. down the coast. The mill men in Vancouver have been sending out enquiries as to what amount of trade it might be possible for local mills to do with the Bay city. They were prepared to do business in the face of the $2 a thousand tariff.

Interest by citizens has been shown by the promise of prizes, in the form of pads and other cricket gear, to the boys most successful in batting, bowling and fielding at both the public and —Wilfrid Senior, the 17-year-old son of Mr. Senior, of the Bulletin staff, sustained a very painful injury yesterday afternoon while driving to Strathcona with a load of silos. When nearing the foot of the hill at the Edmonton Hotel the wagon struck a stone, and the silos, which were loose on the wagon, pitched forward, one of them striking the horses. The animal took fright and started to run, and in crossing the railway tracks young Senior was thrown from the wagon and fell under the wheels. The load passed over him, dislocating his shoulder and breaking his arm. Dr. Ferri was called and attended to the lad's injuries, and he was taken to the hospital, where he is doing well.

—Strathcona Plumber: The city of Edmonton is taking active steps towards the installation of a new telephone system. It is a very important project that Strathcona should also act at once in the same matter. At the present time the system in use here is the property of the city of Edmonton, hence, when our neighbors put in a new one they will expect us to do one of three things, buy that part of their old system on this part of the river, grant them a franchise in Strathcona for their new system or allow them to withdraw their old system from this town in any event. It is up to us to act at once. The proximity of the two towns is so close and their commercial and social intercourse so great that on telephone system, with free and unrestricted connections across the river is necessary to the highest degree of success. By one system we do not mean, necessarily, one ownership but uniformity of instrument permitting the freest and most satisfactory intercourse.

down town hotels feigning drunkenness and "hitting in" with whoever he saw that looked like a victim. About 10.30 Thursday evening one of the people connected with the Victoria hotel caught a glimpse of what looked like a "billy" in his hand and called the attention of the police to the matter. He was taken to the police station and searched and on his wrist was found as pretty a little shot-bag as a bad man would wish to carry. A charge of carrying concealed weapons and a charge of "vagrancy" was laid against him. He got thirty days on the first charge and ten days on the second.

KEMP TELLS OF 'FRISCO.

"I stayed all day Wednesday in San Francisco, watching the town burn down, and slept on Wednesday night in Golden Gate Park. On Thursday afternoon I went over to Oakland. There I met an old Edmonton man, Kipli, who is working on an Oakland paper. He got me a newspaper pass for home, or I might have had to walk. On Friday I went back to 'Frisco and had hardly got off the ferry when a soldier grabbed me and put me to piling bricks off the car track so that traffic could be resumed. There was no fooling about it with the soldier. I had to pile bricks or get shot. I worked for two hours, when one of the city authorities came along and I showed him my newspaper pass, telling him I had to get around about my business. He let me go and I spent all day Friday and Saturday in San Francisco, returning to Oakland Sunday and leaving for home Monday. "I don't think I want any more earthquakes."

ODDFELLOWS' ANNIVERSARY

A GREAT SUCCESS

The annual ball of the Thistle Hockey Club held in the Thistle rink last evening was a grand success. Nearly one hundred couples were present, and enjoyed themselves thoroughly. Clarke's orchestra, excellently themselves in the excellence of the music they provided, and all the numbers were endorsed. It is to the credit of the managing committee that the affair was one of the most successful of the season.

OBJECTS TO HOSPITAL SITE

In the water rate, as the majority of the licensed water men were out of reach of the water mains and had to travel long distances. Ald. Picard moved that the matter be referred to the commissioners to report.

C. B. Semard of the St. Elmo, wrote regarding the placing of a light at the corner of Rice street and Fraser avenue. He said that there was no arc light between Jasper and the Senate hotel and he wished for a light to be placed at the corner mentioned as soon as possible. The matter was referred to the commissioners with power to act.

A bylaw to amend the plumbing by-law was brought forward in several ways amongst which was that the arrangements for cleanouts in the sewers be made easy of access in order not to necessitate the removal of portions of flooring, etc. The bylaw was laid on the table until the plumbing inspector was brought forward to explain the amendments.

At this time the absent alderman made their appearance, and the matter of the isolation hospital was again taken up.

Ald. Griesbach asked the chairman of the sanitation committee, Mr. Smith what the objection had been to the site at the foot of the bank in the rear of the Bulletin office. Mr. Smith said it had been found inaccessible and that it would be considerable expense to build a road through.

Ald. Manson said that they would find that there would be objection wherever they went for a site. He thought the objection that it depreciated the value of property was imaginary.

Ald. Bellamy had figured out that if the isolation hospital, which would be an oblong building, were placed sideways on the block that it would be 150 feet from the outside of the block. He thought this was far enough away from the street to remove danger of contagion. He said that if accessible the site at the foot of the bank would have been his choice, but as it was not convenient they would have to get another site. He did not see that there was any danger if the hospital were placed in the centre of the block.

Ald. Latta thought the citizens would rather pay the extra expense of water and sewer connections and have the hospital farther away than have it right in town.

Ald. Smith thought it would be a good idea for the whole council to drive out to the site and look it over, and he made a motion to that effect, which was carried.
